

Six-Letter Words

The big box contains spaces for 10 six-letter words. The last two letters of each word have already been filled in for you.

Can you find the pairs of letters on the left and write them into the boxes to form all ten words?

To give you a hint, all ten six-lettered words can be found in the paragraph at the bottom of the page.

Creation scientists search for evidence to show that God did create the world like He said in His word. They find lots of proof that there was a worldwide flood – or deluge – like the Bible says. This huge catastrophe picked up rock from far away and placed them in layers called strata. One of these layers is known as the Chinle Formation, which stretches across a large portion of the United States, including New Mexico. The coelophysis dinosaur fossil is found in this Chinle rock. Another layer deposited in New Mexico by the flood is limestone. A tunnel could have formed after the flood when acid water ate through the limestone – forming a beautiful cavern.
